

Coordinated Fabric-Embroidery Stockings

My friend Louise loves foxes, so I couldn't resist this remnant with its adorable Christmas foxes.

There was just enough fabric to make two stockings – perfect for Louise and her hubby.

To make the stockings extra special, I digitized coordinating designs based on the fox illustrations on the fabric. These will be perfect!

Because the print is quite busy, I stitched the embroidery on a plain white panel, then applied that in place for a “cameo” effect on the front of each stocking.

For a little variation, I used different fonts for the names.

I also added the date and some holly to the toes of both stockings.

On Louise's sock, I couldn't resist adding the punning phrase "Christmas Vixen" beneath the fox.

Louise and Hector were delighted with their fox stockings, and continue to enjoy the surprises that come with each Christmas morning.
